Your choice of where to build your home is a reflection of your unique lifestyle. Inside Magazine goes beyond mere bricks and mortar; it delves into the emotions evoked by the fusion of architecture, interior design, custom construction, and property, helping you discover what these elements truly mean to you. It's about capturing that indescribable feeling when you envision your dream living space.

Living

NATURE'S LUXURY

This home is a captivating blend of nature's finest, sustainable choices, and contemporary trends. It weaves together an intricate tapestry of diverse elements – from the earthy warmth of various stones and woods to the transparency of glass and the tactile richness of leather. These carefully selected materials infuse a luxurious essence into the natural canvas of the living space, crafting a design narrative that's both timeless and in vogue. It's a symphony of textures and tones that elevates the home's aesthetic into a sophisticated, yet harmonious, masterpiece.

NATURE'S LUXURY

EDITION 41

Living on a golf course remains timeless due to its allure to the affluent. It offers an exclusive, serene haven where the wealthy can unwind and socialize. This elite lifestyle, blending leisure and luxury, continues to be an enduring symbol of privilege and sophistication. This underscores that owning a property on a golf course is not just about a home; it's an investment in a prestigious, sought-after lifestyle enjoyed by the super-wealthy. This can enhance the property's desirability and potential resale value, attracting buyers who aspire to this elite and relaxed environment. Inside the prestigious enclave of The Cliffs at Walnut Cove, Asheville, NC, this bespoke residence epitomizes modern luxury living. Custom-crafted, it commands sweeping views of the Jack Nicklaus Signature Golf Course, set against the timeless backdrop of the Blue Ridge Mountains. With 14-foot ceilings and an astounding 138 windows, this home basks in the embrace of natural light, including three record-breaking Western windows, an architectural feat in North American residential design.

Architects of international acclaim, Samsel Architects, based in Asheville, North Carolina, is an award-winning architectural firm known for its sustainable and innovative designs. With over three decades of experience, they have shaped diverse projects, from residential homes to commercial spaces, harmonizing functionality with natural surroundings, and earning recognition for their commitment to environmental stewardship. Celebrated for their avant-garde residential designs, in this project, they seamlessly blended modernity with the serenity of the mountain landscape.

The main floor unfolds with a meticulously designed primary bedroom suite, complete with a spacious walk-in closet, a custom primary bath suite, and a cozy sitting room. A lower level houses in-house caretaker quarters and a remarkable 1,500-bottle wine cellar, a demonstration of the residence's dedication to both practicality and luxury.

This exceptional residence features an abundance of guest rooms, versatile multi-use spaces, and intimate sitting areas, offering the perfect setting for gatherings and solitude alike. This home marries luxury living with convenience in an exclusive gated community and is laden with architectural brilliance, blending seamlessly with the magnificence of nature, creating a refined way of life.

KITCHEN

The residence features a spacious open-plan kitchen designed for modern living. Its standout centerpiece is a generously sized square-shaped island with a sleek, seamless, and knobless matte white cabinetry, embodying a minimalist aesthetic. An elongated linear light fixture hangs elegantly in the center, providing ample illumination. Wall-mounted ovens and a contemporary stainless steel cooktop range with classic knob detailing complete the culinary workspace. Complementing this setup are low-profile bucket seat counter stools in a matching white hue, offering both style and comfort.

| EDITION #41

The outdoor style embraces a subtle rustic charm, owing to its use of square stone cladding on pillars and as paving blocks. These elements blend seamlessly with the natural surroundings. A fire pit, positioned at a distance and on a lower level, creates a cozy focal point. The modern outdoor seating and complementary decor items enhance the outdoor space's contemporary appeal while harmonizing with the rustic aesthetic. This thoughtfully designed outdoor oasis offers a perfect balance between modern comfort and a connection to the serene natural landscape, making it an ideal setting for relaxation and social gatherings.
